

A) All spacings are loose tolerance, 0.1" (not critical to the design)

B) Fillets on square edges are a suggested nominal minimum radius, though you can check fit with the parts in hand and disobey those fillets (or go more square if machine allows in reasonable timeframe)

C) Chassis dimensions may not be exactly matching this model, so please reference the side called out for baseline dimension annotations

[illegible]